

2015 MEDICINE WORKSHOPS

WITH THE MEDICINE COLLECTIVE

AT THE INDIGENOUS HEALTH RESEARCH & EDUCATION GARDEN ON UBC FARM, UNCEDED ANCESTRAL MUSQUEAM TERRITORY

Join the Medicine Collective, a group of Indigenous Elders and Knowledge-Keepers, in workshops to reconnect and restore our relationships to lands and peoples that live on Turtle Island. All ages and all peoples are welcome. Workshops are $10-20 sliding scale for each participant, and medicines will be available to bring home.

Indigenous Research Partnerships

In partnership with the Indigenous Research Partnerships Group in the UBC Faculty of Land and Food Systems and the Centre for Sustainable Food Systems at the UBC Farm.

May 13
10:30AM-12:30PM
Salve Harvesting

June 13
10:00AM-12:30PM
Salve Making

July 21
2:00-4:00PM
Tea Harvesting

August 25
4:00-6:00PM
Tea Making

September 29
3:00-5:00PM
Tobacco Pipe Mix Making

TO RSVP OR FIND OUT MORE, CONTACT:

Hannah Lewis,
Indigenous Health
Research & Education
Garden Coordinator

hannah.lewis@ubc.ca