

Join the CRUW circle in celebration at the annual

CRUW OPEN HOUSE

Saturday August 29th, 2015, 9:30am to 3:30pm

UBC Farm, 2461 Ross Drive, Vancouver, BC V6T 1W5

Witness land-based youth engagement on unceded Musqueam territory in one of the largest greenspaces in Vancouver. Join us for the day or register for a particular activity block, and participate in capacity-building, knowledge exchange and relationship-building between youth participants, NGO's, funding organizations, and UBC. Morning refreshments and a picnic lunch will be provided.

CRUW brings Aboriginal youth in foster care together with new immigrant youth, engaging in land-based practice to support positive identity, concrete skills, healthy relationships and leadership competencies to support the transition into independent living. For more information please see our webpage and video.

RSVP by August 14, 2015 to Madelynn Slade at madelynn_slade@vacfss.com

